ABOUT THE EUROPEAN-AMERICAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE (EACC)

The European-American Chamber of Commerce (EACC) stimulates business relations and economic development between Europe and the Greater Cincinnati area, through thought-leadership and programs that encourage collaboration, networking and education. Founded in 2007, the EACC, based in Cincinnati, is the first chapter of its kind in the United States and works in partnership with the EACC, Paris, France, and the EACC, New York. EACC member companies represent a wide variety of business categories and include companies with U.S. and European headquarters, and Cincinnati area companies doing business or prospective business in Europe. Dedicated to increasing awareness and enhancing the image of the Greater Cincinnati cultural and business community, the EACC includes seven distinct and active committees to serve and provide meaningful outreach to members. For membership or other information, visit www.europe-cincinnati.com.
